RIPSAW

for the company Trappenfabriek Sutmuller.

When the customer's wishes meet
the capabilities of the designers,
then everyone is satisfied.

In this case, the customer requested longitudinal cutting and cross-cutting out of material on a rip saw.

The designers put the heads together and after a short while created a special solution – the rear stop, where the so-called tunnel was created. Thanks to it, the customer can shorten long material according to predefined requirements.

This special construction of the FLS ECO 120 Rip Saw with a cross table is an amazing solution for efficiently making longitudinal and transverse cuts on the saw.
